

TFACT Taiwan Foundation Against Copyright Theft
台灣著作權保護基金會

A Creative Showdown Between Taiwan and HK

Make a Film and Tour HK or Tokyo for Free

The Taiwan Foundation Against Copyright Theft and the Hong Kong Intellectual Property Society will co-host the 2008 “My Video Competition” in both Taiwan and Hong Kong. The event will begin officially on March 15th. A press conference to launch the event was held on March 12th at Taipei Art Village. Legislator Hsieh Guoliang, Director General Wang Meihua of the Intellectual Property Office from the Ministry of Economic Affairs, Secretary General Tsai Lien-Sheng of the National Federation of Industries, Chairperson Liao Chide of the Motion Picture Development Foundation, and well-known directors Lee Youning, Chu Youning, Lin Yuhsian all attended the press conference. They launched the event by putting together a puzzle and emphasized that creativity was like a puzzle which involved much hard work.

In order to extend the reach of the event, the main organizer and the Intellectual Property Office will hold 21 seminars on creative advertisement film production with all the colleges and vocational schools that have academic departments associated with art, television or film production. The seminars are to raise the qualities and incentives of the attendees. The event has also cooperated with many internet service providers such as Yahoo’s Wretch Blog, PChome, Giga, seednet and MSN. Related Information can be found on www.myvideocompetition.com.